Elmo's Rustical Leather

Rustical is a classic upholstery leather that offers excellent sitting comfort and outstanding natural beauty. The leather is a pure-aniline through-dred Scandinavian cowhide with an unpigmented protective finish, the process makes it exceptionally soft and gives it a very natural look. Pure-anilines are produced for their natural characteristics, beautiful grain variations and natural beauty. These products by intent contain minimal finish and are not recommended for high-traffic public areas. Suitable for Executive areas.

Elmo Leather Selection Guide

Leather is one of the most versatile natural materials available. With furniture design, functionality, choice and comfort are key. We know that as an architect or designer you value having access to a wide spectrum of colors that allow maximum choice when designing or furnishing different environments. We also share your concern for our natural environment, which is why we have partnered with Elmo Leather to offer two outstanding leather grades.

Each grade enables a wide scope of expression. Colors vary from timeless neutrals to bright bold colors. The result allows you to express a multitude of possibilities.

Elmosoft (S-Grade) is a soft and pliable Semi-Aniline leather imported from Scandinavia. Outstanding comfort combined with excellent durability and an extensive color selection, makes it very suitable for the public environment. Natural characteristics add to the elegant character of the leather. This leather is made without chrome tanning agents and can be recycled.

Rustical (B-Grade) is a full aniline through dyed Scandinavian cowhide, with an unpigmented protective top finish, the process makes it exceptionally soft and gives it a very natural look. Full anilines are produced for their natural characteristics and beauty, the products by intent, contain minimal finish. These are not recommended for high traffic areas. Suitable for Executive areas.
